There were 186 cadets asleep on the second and third floors of the three-story building when the fire was discovered shortly before 5 a. m. Cadet Winston Wilson, who was the first to discover the fire, shouted the alarm. He awakened Prof. Joseph Darden and others, who aroused the boys, ranging from 12 to 21 years old.

Gamble, who was awakened by the choking smoke, aroused his buddy. They tied six bed sheets together to form a rope by which to descend from their third-floor room. Weaver, half blinded and strangled by the smoke, collapsed as the boys prepared to lower themselves.

Grabbing a towel Gamble placed it over Weaver's mouth and helped him out of the window. Gusts of wind apparently revived Weaver, for he attempted to lower himself to safety. He had not progressed more than a few feet, however, when he lost his grip and fell to the frozen ground.

Gamble then followed. The sheets extended only to the second floor. His feet became entangled in the vines that covered the sides of the building and, in attempting to free them, lost his grip and fell. He struck the back of his head, being knocked unconscious for a few moments.

After being given first aid by fellow students Gamble went back to aid in the rescue of others who were forced to jump for safety.

Other cases of individual heroism were noted. There is one unsung hero of the fire, however, to whom the students citizens of Front Royal and officials of the academy owe a debt of gratitude.

Mrs. Fidale said she went to the girl's house to make a final effort to have her stay away from her husband, but the girl refused.

While many Congressional leaders followed the lead of Chairman Borah, of the Senate foreign relations communities and declined to comment on President Coolidge's Nicaraguan message, pending the appearance tomorrow of Secretary Kellogg before the committee, a number of senators and representatives offered comment, some commending the President's stand, others criticizing it.

The consideration paid by the United States to Nicaragua was the sum of $3,000,000. At the time of the payment of this money a financial plan was drawn up between the Nicaraguan government and its creditors which provided for the consolidation of Nicaragua's obligations. #### THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President Coolidge's message to Congress sets forth the situation which has compelled him to send forces to Nicaragua for the protection of Americans and to safeguard the interests of the United States.

The country is informed that the lawful government of Nicaragua has been subjected to Mexican military aggression, threatening the extinction of constitutional government and the destruction of American life and property, as well as endangering the interests of the United States in the matter of canal rights and the protection of the Panama Canal.

The present government of Nicaragua was recognized by the United States and by several Central American governments after it was clearly shown that President Diaz had been constitutionally elected. The revolution headed by Dr. Sacasa was organized in the City of Mexico, where Sacasa had been in consultation with President Calles. President Coolidge says:

I have the most conclusive evidence that arms and munitions in large quan-titles have been on several occasions since August, 1926, shipped to the revolutionists in Nicaragua. Boats carrying these munitions have been fitted out in Mexican ports, and some of the munitions bear evidence of having belonged to the Mexican government. It also appears tha the ships were fitted out with the full knowledge of and, in some cases, with the encouragement of Mexican officials, and were in one instance, at least, commanded by a Mexican naval reserve officer.

The aggression upon Nicaragua by Mexican officials and agents is essentially an attack upon the peace and security of the United States. It is an attempt to overturn an American republic by violence, and to erect upon its ruins a communist regime such as that established in Mexico, which aims to destroy private property and private rights. If the United States should stand idly by and permit this conspiracy to succeed the security of the Panama Canal would be endangered, the lives and property of Americans in Central America would be destroyed and the present government of the United States would be a traitor crowded buildings. Had the audience in the to the Monroe doctrine, the bulwark of gallery remained calmly in their seats until national defense.

When President Coolidge says, "I propose to follow the path of my predecessors," the people of the United States know that American life and property and the interests of this republic are safe. In giving notice that the United States will not tolerate anarchy in Nicaragua, "especially if such state of affairs is contributed to or brought about by outside influences or by any foreign power," President Coolidge applies the Monroe doctrine exactly as it would have been applied by Monroe, Jackson, Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt, Wilson or Harding. Criticism of President Coolidge's action has been based upon ignorance of the facts or upon willful misrepresentation of fact. In view of the disclosures made by the President no American can truthfully hold that he supports the Monroe doctrine and yet opposes Mr. Coolidge's action.

Honest criticism of the President's course would have been avoided by an earlier official exposure of Mexican intrigue in Nicaragua. The country should have been made acquainted with these facts at the beginning.

The denials issued by President Calles and other Mexican officials are now stamped as false. Those Americans who have rushed to the aid and comfort of Calles against the plain intimations of their own government are in an embarrassing position. They are now enabled to get right, however, if they wish to do so, or they may drift into the attitude of antagonism to their own government in its defense of American rights and American life.

When President Coolidge sets in motion the forces that maintain the honor of the American flag and compel respect behind him the united American people.

A LEGISLATIVE JAM.

Already about one-third of the short session of Congress, has elapsed and there are signs of a legislative jam. Both the Senate and House calendars are crowded with bills and resolutions, while much of the time of members of both houses is consumed in investigations The Senate calendar is a pamphlet of 24 pages, while the House calendar numbers 151 pages, covering all sorts of bills and resolutions on sundry subjects.

Of course the appropriation or supply bills come first. One, the Treasury and Postoffice bill, has been approved by the President. The Interior Department bill is in conference, and the Agricultural Department bill has been sent to conference and awaits that interesting stage of its journey. The Navy Department bill has been passed by the House and sent to the Senate. The independent offices bill has been reported to the House. Of the nine appropriation bills just one has passed both houses and been made a law.

Some of the long debates in sight relate to the naval appropriation bill, the farm relief bill, the alien property bill and the radio bill, not to mention Nicaragua, China and the right of the Senate to keep certain senators-elect out of the Senate.

The prospect of a recurrence of political debates in either Senate or House keeps senators and representatives in a state of nervous anxiety, as if they were seated on a powder mine that might explode at any moment.

This is a picture of the situation in Congress on the eve of what promises to be another legislative and political jam. A short session of Congress is a nightmare of politics, and a failure so far as the serious business of Congress s concerned.

BRITISH AVIATION.

Sir Samuel Hoare, British air minister, com pleted his 6.300-mile airplane journey from England to India last Saturday. Accompanied by Lady Hoare, he left London December 27 in the air liner Hercules, and after only 63 hours in the air, swooped down on Delhi, British India, to the accompaniment of a cannon salute. On the same day two British civilian aviators, flying baby moth planes from England to Australia, also alighted in India. The latter are flying alone, each acting as the mechanic for his own plane, the venture being for the purpose of demonstrating the feasibility of making long flights in small planes.

In neither case were elaborate preparations made to insure the success of the undertaking. Sir Samuel completed his flight practically upon scheduled time, and the pilots of the moth planes are jogging serenely along, each day placing them many miles nearer their ob-Contrast these with the friendship flight being undertaken at the present time by the United States army, practically at the start of which one of the five planes participating has become disabled. Compare it to the recent attempt by the navy to fly to Panama, in which neither of the two ships was able to complete the flight on schedule. American aviation still can learn much from abroad.

MONTREAL'S THEATER HORROR.

The usual holiday crowd nearly filled the 1,100 seats of the Laurier Palace moving picture theater in the East End of Montreal last Sunday. At 2 o'clock the afternoon program was barely under way when the roving eye of a small boy spotted a wisp of smoke and a tiny tongue of flame emanating from the projection room. Instinctively he uttered the cry 'fire' and a panic ensued. The downstairs seats were emptied quickly and in orderly fashion through three of the four emergency exits. The gallery, however, was occupied almost entirely by children, and apparently all of them tried to utilize the same stairway at At a turn of the stairway the mob became jammed, probably by a child who had stumbled and fallen. In the entanglement of hundreds of human beings, 77 lost their lives.

The tragedy teaches a lesson which officials have been trying to imprint upon the public mind for many years. All the fire prevention measures known can not lessen the results of panics caused by fire or the cry of "fire" in the first wave of hysteria had passed, and then walked quietly through the exits, the theater could have been emptied with no loss of life whatsoever. The little notice appearing in theater programs should be taken seriously: "In case of fire, choose the nearest exit, and

THE GASOLINE TAX.

The District tax collector recently announced that the gasoline tax collections over the past year amounted to more than $1,000,000. The December receipts have not been reported as vet. Those for November, however, totaled more than $88,000, making the revenue for the first eleven months of the year more than $935,000. The collections for 1925 amounted to approximately $893,000

When the gasoline tax was established. although it was generally admitted that it would be a considerable revenue producer, many felt that it would work an undue hardship on the motorist. During the first few months of its operation there was some grumbling over the increased price of gasoline After the public became used to the higher price, however, it forgot that every gallon of gasoline purchased bore a 2-cent tax, and at the present time it has become one of the easiest taxes to pay. The revenue on gasoline becomes part of the capital of the highway department. This is taxation in its ideal form, if it is not made excessive. Streets are built largely for the use of motorists, who in turn pay the tax which provides street funds. Trucks, which do more damage to the highways than passenger cars, use up proportionately more gasoline per mile, thus contributing a greater percentage of the total tax figure.

PASSING OF THE COAL BUNKER.

When the first three ships of the modern navy were laid down under Secretary Chandler, before the days of the "great white fleet." no one in the navy ever expected that the day would come when coal would be superseded by oil as the fuel supply. Yet by the end of the year 1927 not a single battleship of the rapid destruction of forests. The logger takes navy will use coal for fuel. Nearly all the vessels of the first line have abandoned coal and have substituted fuel oil for firing under their boilers. Only three coal burners remain. from fire, and fire is almost as destructive command of the fleet maneuvering off Culebra island and in the Caribbean sea, recom mended that these three dreadnaughts be modernized by substituting oil-burning furnaces for the obsolete type still in use.

When the fleet starts out on its practice cruises next year every battleship will be able to make "full speed ahead" under forced draft without leaving a smoke screen in her wake thick enough to walk on.

It is seventeen years since the first battleship of the navy was fitted out with oil-burning furnaces. That was in 1910, and the first of the fleet to try out the oil burner was the North Dakota. Turbine engines and electrical steering devices are better adapted to the use of oil fuel than coal, which is used in every one of the vessels of the destroyer class.

The picturesque woman coal passer in the harbor of St. Thomas in the Virgin islands will have to seek other employment. Nearly all the merchant vessels touching that port have substituted oil for coal, and now that the last of the battleships are about to follow suit the coal docks will have to be given over to the barnacle and the teredo.

THE PITTMAN ACT.

Despite the protest of the Treasury Department the Senate has passed and the House banking and currency committee has favorably reported the bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to complete purchases of silver under the act of April 23, 1918, commonly known as the Pittman act. The avowed purpose of the bill is to direct the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase some 14,589,730 ounces of silver bullion, paying therefor not less than $1 an

The act of 1918 provided that silver in the Treasury should be sold for $1 an ounce to help carry on the war. About 200,000,000 ounces of silver were sold to Great Britain. About 17,000,000 ounces of silver were "allocated" to the director of the mint. The statute declared that "allocation" should be regarded as sales or resales. The question is whether "allocations" under the Pittman act are revokable by the Treasury, after made. The majority report of the House committee says

The minority report of the committee says 'yes," on the ground that the Pittman act was war measure, and also on the ground that it is an effort of the silver interests to compel the Treasury, with public money, to purchase some 14,589,000 ounces of silver at $1 au ounce when the market price is about 55 cents an ounce.

Since this is a matter of interpretation of a statute, it would appear that the question should be referred to the courts rather than to Congress. In the meantime it is proposed to have the Treasury pay more for silver than it is worth. The silver thus purchased and stored would serve no good monetary or commercial purpose.

RAILROAD EXPANSION.

On the first of the year figures were made public giving the number of miles of new trackage laid by United States railroads during the preceding twelve months. New lines constructed amounted to 1.005 miles, exceeding by 361 miles the amount laid in 1925. Much of the new mileage consisted of relatively long lines instead of short extensions, serving to open up much new territory.

On Thursday last Commissioner Lewis, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, appearing before the House committee hearings on the independent offices bill, estimated the valuation of the railroads at about $22,000 -000,000, nearly a $4,000,000 increase since 1920. The face value of the outstanding securities is placed at about $333,000.000 more, and the wealth is shared by some 2,000,000 stock and bond holders.

The railroads are becoming increasingly prosperous. This is largely due to the volume of freight carried. In 1926, according to figures recently announced by the American Railway association, the freight volume moved was the greatest on record, the more than 53,-000,000 cars concerned exceeding by over 2,000,000 the number involved in the previous record made in 1925. Freight loadings eraged for the entire year more than 1,000, 000 cars a week. Loadings of coal were exceptionally heavy and increases were shown in loadings of practically all commodities during 1926 as compared to the preceding year.

Representative roads throughout the country, which spent for improvements and expansion approximately $875,000,000 in 1926, will expend practically the same amount this year. Prospective earnings justify the plans. The rastroads are adopting the right policy in placing this vast sum back into their prop-

GOOD-BY TO THE FORESTS.

Some idea of the enormous number of trees in the forests of the United States which are sacrificed to the maw of the sawmill may be gathered from the report of the sales and shipments of lumber during 1926, just issued by the National Lumber Manufacturers asso-

From approximately 500 leading lumber mills of the country, the year 1926 is shown to have been the record year in the matter of During that period the softwood mills sold 12,223,764,661 board feet, while at the same time the sales of the 125 hardwood mills which reported to the association reached the total of 1,507,127,105 feet. .

The mills from which reports were received represent about 40 per cent of the lumber operations of the entire country, so that the estimate of total production is in the neighborhood of 36,000,000,000 feet board measure during the year.

Just what this means in the matter of the denuding of the timberlands of the country it would be difficult to estimate, but assuming that the average growth represents 10,000 feet to the acre-and 5.000 would be a high figure in the Southern section—the saws of the lumbermen were responsible for denuding 3,600,000 acres of the forest lands of the United States during the year 1926.

At such a rate as this how long will the country be able to supply the demand for lumber and timber? Nor is the sawmill the only consumer that is responsible for the only "saw timber;" tops and branches have no attraction for him. The woods are filled with the debris, which is a constant menace for American life and property he has They are the Wyoming, the Utah and the New as the ax and the cross-cut saw, as any forest Three years ago Admiral Koonts, in | ranger will testify.

Health and Beauty

Health is the surest foundation for beauty. This is the guiding principle of the Elizabeth Arden method.

Each step of the Elizabeth Arden Treatment is based on a real need of the skin. And when these needs are filled-when the blood flows swiftly through the skin tissues, when the cells are nourished-your skin will be clear, fine and smooth

The same scientific principle governs all the Elizabeth Arden system of Exercise. Scientific exercise, because it arouses circulation and stimulates every organ and gland to function effectively, will retard old age. Correct exercise will mold your figure just as a sculptor molds his clay. You can reduce your weight, or build it up. Take off those pads of fat that make your hips, your shoulders, your waistline look middle-aged. Movements chosen for your particular requirements, as prescribed by Elizabeth Arden's expert assistants, will correct a sway-back, a paunchy abdomen, any fault of your figure or carriage.

Visit the Exercise Department the next time you come to the Elizabeth Arden Salon. Exercises, diet, massage will be suggested as you require them. Your ideal figure will become a goal toward which Miss Arden's expert assistant will work with all the skill at her command.

Throughout their married life, the comedian ridiculed, according to Mrs. Chaplin, at her ideas of morality and marriage. He told her of a couple with five children who were not married.

"That is the ideal for a man and a woman," she quoted him as saying.

Not only was the first child of the Chaplin marriage a most unwelcome one to the father, according to the divorce complaint, but the comedian also objected to the second.

"What do you want to do; populate Los Angeles?" he is quoted as saying For long periods he did not see the children, although they were in the same house with him at the time, the complaint alleged.

"During their entire married life," the complaint recites, "Chaplin insisted and was determined that the plaintiff get a divorce but only in accordance with his dictation and instructions." Booth Fisheries Company

The Booth Fisheries Co. is the largest wholesale merchandiser of fish in the country. Either directly or through subsidiaries it transacts a diversified business as a canner of salmon in Puget Sound and the Columbia river as a canner of sardines in New Brunswick, as an operator of freight and passenger steamers on Lake Superior and Georgian bay and as lessee or owner of four large storage plants.

The company's earnings were satisfactory prior to 1916 and improved during the war period to such an extent that a net income of $1,877,632 was reported in 1917. Thereafter earnings fell off rapidly for two years and continued unsatisfactory for several more years with the result that for a three-year and four-month period ended April, 1923, net losses aggregated nearly four million dollars. Since 1923 earnings have been improved; hence, during the fiscal year which ended May 1, 1926, net income was equal to $8.25 per share of preferred stock, this being the first time the preferred dividend requirement had been carned since 1919.

In 1926 the company announced a plan of reorganization. This plan

This plan called for the issuance of $5,000,000 first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds offered in exchange for other funded issues then outstanding. The bonds above and beyond those used for exchange purposes were to go to banks holding notes which represented indebtedness incurred during the company's readjustment period. Spurt of Cavaliers in Second Half Gains Margin of Win.

Adams Best for Maryland; Foul Misses Are Costly.

Special to The Washington Post.

HARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 10.
Launching a whirlwind attack at the start of the second period after a nip and tuck struggle had left he count tied in the first half, 11 to 11. Virginia's basketball quintet won its first Southern conference game of the season tonight by defeating Maryland, 22 to 17.

Close guarding by both teams kept down the season.

22 to 17.

Close guarding by both teams kept down the score during the first hali and five minutes had elapsed before Friedburg, of Virginia, registered, the first points of the game with a field goal. The same player made good on a free toss, giving the Cavaliers a 3-point lead. The advantage was short-lived, for a pretty goal by Adams, Maryland's star center, and an accurate toss from the foul line by Boyd, knotted the count.

the foul line by Boyd, knotted the count.

Meade, of Virginia, came through with a fancy field goal and Adams scored his second basket. Three field goals by Friedburg in rapid succession failed to discourage the Old Liners and before the whistle had sounded Maryland had rallied and tied the score on a successful shot from the side lines by Dean and free tosses by Linkous and Snider.

Maryland could add but six points to her total in the second half. A lone field goal was made by Snyder, while Adams contributed three points from the foul line and Deam one. Virginia took the lead after the intermission with a five-point margin and was never pressed thereafter, despite the los of Fayonsky and Meade, who went out on personal fouls.

their total, and although they mi 12 out of 21 of their free shots, mos their points were made at the stripe.

Friedburg and Meade caged four goals, two by the former being of a sensational variety. Adams played a superb game for Maryland and was responsible for eight of the seventeen points.

Rogers Hornsby and John J. McGraw held their conferences here recently, closely following the great conclave of the best minds of the cauliflower industry in St. Louis, and Hornsby agreed to play ball for the Giants for the next two season at $40,000 a season, baseball money, at which price he will also perform the mild ceremonies devolving upon the captain of this ball club.

Inasmuch as Mr. Sam Breadon. of 8t. Louls, paid Hornsby only $30,000 for playing baseball and precisely nothing whatever for managing the Cardinals, it will be apparent that he is to receive a raise of $10,000, baseball money, for assuming the captaincy of the Giants.

This conference was unusually peaceful and there was a report that Mr. McGraw and Mr. Hornsby both were indisposed, as they are both inclined to wrangle vociferously over financial matters when in their normal high spirits.

Hornsby left soon afterward for his home in St. Louis, intending to remain there where he can utter disparaging remarks about the lib-erality of Mr. Breadon at close quarters until it is time to go to the Giants' training camp at Sar-asota.

Travis Jackson, the shortstop of the Giants who was appointed captain in place of Frank Frisch after Frisch, in a moment of recklessness, jumped the club and paid his own fare home last summer, will revert to his old status as a mere player. Slugging Outfielder Wires Griffith for Terms.

Player Hit .290 Last Year; Lifetime Average Is .316.

A LTHOUGH he desires to make it clear to Washington fans that the "Old Men's Home" conducted by the Nationals a year or so ago is no longer open for business, President Clark Griffith stated last night that there was a possibility of his signing Outfielder Zach Wheat, who was recently released by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Baseball rules entitle players have served ten seasons in the majors and who have been waived on by every big-league club, to their unconditional release, which gives them the right to sell their services to the highest bidder, and Wheat, it seems, has put himself on the market.

President Griffith was in com President Griffith was in com-munication with Zach some time ago and suggested that he wire his terms. A telegram was received yesterday from the lover, who is at his home in Polo, Mo., asking what the Harrismen had to offer, and, if he can be obtained for a reasonable figure, Griffith admits that he might take a chance on the veteran.

"If I manage to sign Wheat to a Washington contract," Griff stated in discussing the case, "the chances are that he will be used in a utility role altogether. He was a great player once and might come in handy when Manager Harris needs a pinch hitter. Of course, Wheat may not be through yet and may show enough to land him a regular job, but my idea in trying to get him is merely for use in a pinch."

The former Dodger will be 39 years of age on May 23. He started his professional career with the Enterprise, Kans., club in 1905, going to Fort Worth in 1907, to Shreveport in 1908, to Mobile in 1909 and later that same sea-Mobile in 1909 and later that same sea-

BRADLEY SADDLES TWO WINNERS AT FAIRGROUNDS

Feature Sees Beneficent Triumph

Blue Pencil Scores 2d Bradley Victory in Fifth.

Jockeys Legere, Jones Injured in Spill in Opener.

Airgrounds, New Orleans, Jan.

10 (By A. P.).—With a sudden drop in the temperature, the attendance today was kept down to the regulars but speculation was brisk.

Col. E. R. Bradley's silks were carried to victory in the Arcadia purse, which featured the program, when Beneficent, under Goldie Johnson's perfect ride, landed the purse. Huntsman was second and the favorite, Banton, third. Huntsman cut out the early running while Johnson took Beneficent back waiting to make his run in the stretch. It was a wise move and when Beneficent challenged in the last furiong he drew away from a tired bunch of horses and won by a length. Huntsman beat Banton half a length for place.

A nexty spill occurred in the first two baby racers lost their lockeys. Best Spade unseated Legere just after the start and The Lure fell, throwing D. Jones heavily to the ground. The Lure, in falling lost his saddle and all equipment. Jockey Jones was knocked out and was rushed to the paddock. The report was that the saddle girth broke, causing The Lure to fall.

Polly Witch, carrying C. E. Durnell's colors, was a winner over Glennie with Latvia third. Polly Witch rushed to the front, set a fast pace and won by half a length. A like distance separated second and Eleven maiden 3-year-olds competed in the second event, a mile dash, and it was won by the favorite, Master Walter, which was making his first appearance of the meeting. He is owned by W. Daniels. Frank Hawley was second with Alikhan third.

Walter rushed into the lead, made all the pace and won by a length and a half. Frank Hawley was second by a length.

A very ordinary field of platers con tested the purse in the third race, a 6-furlong gallop. It was won by H G-furlong gallop. It was won by H. Neal's Sweeptonia, with Last Cent second and Upton third. Last Cent made the pace to the stretch and appeared a winner, but in the last stateenth he tired and Sweeptona, coming with a rush, won by a half length. Last Cent defeated Upton a like distance.

E. R. Bradley made it a double when his colt Blue Penell won the fifth race, his filly Beneficent having landed the purse in the preceding race. Blue Penell was favorite and Goldie Johnson, who had the leg up, rode a good race.

He got the colt away in front and rated him along to the stretch. In the last sixteenth he was pushed by Miss Meise, but managed to hold his lead to win by a length. Miss Melse beat Resourceful a length and a half for second place.

Lady Lynn gathered the purse in the sixth, defeating Lancaster by a nose in a furious drive. Drone was third. Lady Lynn, raced Overdraft into defeat and ook a long lead on the stretch turn, but tired suddenly and just lasted to thred suddenly and just lasted to be final event was won by O Girl h Sincerely second and Jimmie innon third. PEABODY and Park View schools will renew thier battle this afternoon on the Plaza playground for the municipal playground department's élementary school city championship. Peabody won the first contest of the series last Friday by the narrow margin of 1 to 0, the winning goal being scored in the final minutes of play.

The city championship series now under way is the twelfth annual conducted by the playground department. Soccer was introduced in the grade schools in 1914 but that year only division champions were decided. 1915 being the first year that a city champion was picked.

Hyde school, of Georgetown, won the first city title and it is interesting to note that one member of this championship team is now playing in the Washington Soccer.

py shaft. But if the timing is the least bit off, the results are certain to be disastrous.

Slow swingers get better results with whippy shafts than do fast swingers. Fast swingers when using a whippy shaft tan not help but leave the club head too far behind their hands on the downswing. You often hear a player say that he can play his irons but not his woods. In many cases this is due to the fact that the wood clubs have shafts which are too whippy. Practically all iron clubs have stiff shafts.

AMERICAN U. FIVE AT G. W. TONIGHT

Win Streak.

By JACK ESPEY

The trim little sloop, "American," which has been sailing over the basketball sea at a victory-agame speed so far may run into a squall of dangerous proportions touight in the George Washington University gymnasium.

gymnasium.

That's the way a George Washington fan pute it in saying that the undefeated Methodist quiniet, is going to encounter a stumbling block in the Colonial team in the latter's own backyard. The game will start at about 8.15 o'clock, following a preliminary clush between the freshmen fives of the schools, scheduled to start at 7:15.

Indications are that the American tossers, winners in all of their seven games to date, will find George Washington a real obstacle, one which will offer a stift argument before it can be cleared out of the path, With a shift in the line-up, made after last night's final workout, Coach Jimmy Lemon E confident that the Colonial quintet is considerably stronger than at any time this season.

George Washington's revamped machine will have Henry Sapp, the guard who led in scoring against Gallaude: last week, holding down one of the forward positions alongside of Irving Bland, and Jim Carey, herecofere a forward, playing at guard with Fred Wal lace. Harold Haun, 6 feet 2, cente will remain at his center post.

The same combination which has been successful in the first seven games will appear for American University. Capt. "Tom" Sawyer and Leon Schloss will be in the forward berths; Jim Birthright will handle the tap-off job, and Bill Banta and Bruce Kessler will do the guarding.

Seating accommodations in the George Washington gymnasium have been enlarged to care for 1,200 spectators.

First Baptist Sextet Wins League Opener

First Baptist church sexted defeated the West Washington Baptist team, 11 to 8, in the opening contest of the Baptist Young People's Union league last night at the Columbia Heights Community center.

Miss Moore led the winning team in scoring with five two-pointers, while Miss Hicks starred on the defense. The losers' mainstays were the Misses Haycock, Bean and Brown.

THE trim little sloop. "American," which has been sailing over the squall of dangerous proportions tonight in the George Washington University in the George Washington University gymnasium.

That's the way a George Washington fan puts it in saying that the undefeated Methodiat quintet is going to encounter a stumbling block in the Colonial team in the latter's own back-yard, The game will sart at about $15 o'clock, following a preliminary clash between the freshmen fives of the schools, scheduled to start at 7:15.

Indications are that the American tossers, winners in all of their seven games to date, will find George Washington a real obstacle, one which will.offer a stiff argument before it can be cleared out of the path. With a shift in the line-up, made after last night's final workout, Coach Jimmy Lemon is confident that the Colonial quintet is considerably stronger than at any time this season.

George Washington's revamped ma-chine will have Henry Sapp, the guard who led in scoring against Callaudet last week, holding down one of the forward positions alongside of Irving Bland, and Jim Carey, heretofore a for-Bland, and Jim Carey, heretofore a forward, playing at guard with Fred Wallace. Harold Haun, 6 feet 2, center, will remain at his center post.

The same combination which has been successful in the first seven games will appear for American University. Capt. "Tom" Sawyer and Leon Schloss will be in the forward berths; Jim Birthright will handle the tap-off job, and Bill Bants and Bruce Kessler will do the guarding.

Seating accommodations in the George Washington gymnasium have been enlarged to care for 1,200 spectators.

Jan. 10.—With between $90,000 and $100,000 assured as the winders ahare of the annual renewal of Coffroth handicap, Sunday, March, the La Brea stable, owned by Hamon H. ndidates for the Coffroth—Bunspero, eepling Away, American Son, Sandy in Elector and Rocky Lane—and me of these must be conceded as ving a good chance—Cotton is demined if possible to increase his inces of victory by the purchase of wher candidate. Plans along this were made known today on the ren of Trainer John H. McKee from v Orleans.

Cotton sent McKee to New Orleans a fortnight ago in an attempt purchase another Coffroth dicap candidate. The Los Angeles sportsman was particularly anxious to buy Broadway Jones from Col. E. R. Bradley, who is racing this stake performer at the New Orleans meeting.

New Orleans meeting.

"I offered Col. Bradley $60,000 for Broadway Jones but he declined for the reason that he intends sending the horse to Tia Juana to carry his colors in the Coffroth," said McKee in discussing the attempted purchase.

McKee also reported that the best stake horses at New Orleans will be shipped here for the Coffroth. He said that Hal Price Headley will send Helen's Babe and Almadel, that the Kenton farms will ship Gen. Haldeman, William Daniels will send Vespasian, and Mose Goldblatt will send Sir Peter. As Mose Goldblatt is the trainer for the Harry Payne Whitney string, it is believed that these horses will also be shipped to Tia Juana. The Whitney Coffroth eligibles are Blondin, Acrostic, Whiskery and Afterglow.

Commissions received in the last

Commissions received in the last few days from New Orleans for Vespasian substantiate McKee's report that the horse will be a Coffroth starter. These commissions for Vespasian have been heavy and have forced his price down in the Coffroth future book to 25 to 1.

Another New Orleans horse that has been well played in the future book is Sir Peter and the flow of money for him has knocked his price down from 50 to 1 to 20 to 1.

Carlaris, winner of the Coffroth last season, was opened the favorite and still remains the first choice in the future book. His opening price was 8 to 1. Now odds of 7 to 1 are being quoted against his chances of winning the classic. Broadway Jones is 40 to 1, but since the word has been given that Col. Bradley is almost certain to start him in the Croffroth the expected flow of commissions for him will send his price down.

BEAUTY SPOT?

MARY and Evelyn have had a dispute which they refer to me for settlement. "Should or ahouldn't one use a beauty spot to cover a recent pimple?"

Personally, I agree entirely with Evelyn, who thinks it a bad idea. In the first place, the black spot doesn't really disguisse the pimple, for there is generally some irritation surrounding it—there may even be a bump in the middle. In the sexed, as she kissed her mother ing up of the pimple isn't good, for the inflammation should have all the air it can get.

Pullen looked at his daughter. "You're terribly pretty," he said. She dimpled with pleasure. "Am I, daddy?"

"Yes," his daughter agreed. "But, of course, I didn't say a word. He was there on the corner that night, too. he added: "If I thought he did, stairs, she returned to the door, he added!" in the fire."

I'd throw if in the fire."

"That isn't all. Yesterday he was there in an automobile—a long gray automobile—a long and the followed the street car until I got off and then—papa, he followed me home here!"

Pullen got up and stamped around the room. "The rotten, dirty bum" he said. "If I ever get my hands on him I'll—" "What are you two people whispering about?" asked Mrs. Pullen, coming into the room. "We're planning a surprise for you," her daughter said. "Goodness knows I've had enough surprises the last few days," the mother spanning. You buy some pretty clothes or something."

Pullen banged his fist on the mantelipiece. "That settles it," he roared. "I stay home tomorrow, and I'll nab him—I'll get him right!"

His eyes fell on the fur coat, that lay where it had been dropped beside the girl. "Do you suppose he sent this sured her. "I've never seen such a fine one."

Of course, you shouldn't have had the pimple in the first place; you wouldn't have had it if you had paid the pimple in the first place; you strict attention to diet, exercise and hours for sleep; if, too, you had kept the internal workings of your body in good condition. But—it's here. What shall you do, rather than cover it with a healty snot?

shall you do, rather than cover it with a beauty spot?

If the pimple has come to a head, the core may be gently pushed out, but the skin should not be tortured An application of peroxide will keep the place sterile, and, if the pimple is of the moist variety, a dusting with an antiseptic camphorated powder, such as is used on surgical dressings, will make it less noticeable and tend to dry it.

"What do you mean, insulting my daughter?" he shouted, and reached for the other's collar.

He was on the right-hand side of the machine, and was compelled to lean far over to his foe.

"Get off my car," ordered the large man. He struck Pullen's hand away, and the machine leaped forward.

Julia's father started clambering over the side. As he balanced upon the door the other man leaned toward him put his hand on Pullen's neck, and heaved him bodily to the ground.

The car swerved sharply and mounted the sidewalk, just missing a post at the curb.

Pullen, dazed, lay in a heap. His daughter came running as he struggled to his feet.

The gray car by this time had backed from the sidewalk and was swiftly gathering headway down the street.

"Are you hurt, papa?" asked Julis, breathless. "Oh. papa, it's my fault."

The wrap trimmed with rhinestones in a pattern of triangles has a fur collar for effect rather than warmth. She could wear it anywhere, but if she went away she night find a perfectly new man to admire it—someone not too young and awfully distinguished, perhaps.

New York, Jan. 10 (By the Associated Press).—Quiet strength characterized today's curb market. The market ignored the latest developments in the Mexican - Nicaraguan parently paying more attention to the case in money rates and the buillish trade news.
Oils displayed a firm undertone in expectation of a series of favorable 1926 carnings statements within the next few weeks. Net gains, as a rule, were small, but they were fairly well distributed.

few weeks. Net gains, as a rule, were small, but they were fairly well distributed.

Pools were active in a few special stocks, but they had difficulty in attracting a public following. The highest prices in a year or longer were established by Auburn Auto, Banctialy Corporation, Brockway Motor Truck, Estey Welte A and Victor Talking Machine (old stock).

Activity of the motors coincided with the extra sales effort being made in conection with the winter automobile shows, the first of which opened here last Saturday. Industrials generally showed duixed changes.

Public utilities displayed a better tone, Commonwealth Power and United Gas Improvement, selling at their highest prices in a year or more. American Light & Traction, Middle West Utilities and Sierra Pacific Electric also recorded good gains.

COTTONSEED OIL MARKET. New York, Jan 10 (By A. P.)—COT-TONSEED OIL—Was fairly active and firm today, advancing 17 to 20 points on commission house and local buying in sympathy with the advance in cot-ton and steadiness of lard. Sales, 12. 400 barrels. Prime cyude, 6.75; prime summer, vellow spot, 6.85; January closed, 8.60, March 8.85, May 8.77, July 8.94.

It is alleged that the government stepped in without any authority and took the land. The motion, which will be argued by Assistant District Attorneys Rover and Burkinshaw, is based on the contention that there existed no contract between the government and the alleged owners of the property and that the court has no jurisdiction to listen to any claim for damages.
